THE HARLEM WAR AGAIN .- Hostilities, among the discontented laborers on the Croton Works, have, it appears, broken out afresh .--The rows, riots and fights, between the Corkonian and Fardownian factions, among the Irish, are of frequent occurence, and often result in serious consequences. A large number of the mal contents have been discharged, and the contractors have in consequence been served with threatening letters. A few days since the dwelling of one of the contractors was set on fire, and was with difficulty saved from des-

The laborers assemble nightly in bodies and commit all kinds of depredations, such as burning of stables and out houses, breaking down fences, rubbing hen roosts, &c.

On the night of the 22d, the house of a Mr. M'Gennis, one of the contractors, in 8th Av. enue near 86th street, was threatened with an attack. M'G. hastened to procure the aid of some officers, leaving his wife and child alone and unprotected. Officers Hathwrite, Collins, McGrath, and others soon reached the spot. The marauders had however, increased their force to some three hundred strong, and altho' they were fired upon with guns and pistols by the officers, they did not desist from their work of destruction till the house was pulled down, and Mis. McGennis and her child were buried in the ruins. They were, however, rescued, having received, fortunately, but little injury. One of the ring leaders of the mob, name Charles Garretty, was secured and lodged in and annul that deed,

A TARIFF.-Van Burensm, among the left-handed blessing it has entailed upon the People, leaves us with an exhausted Treasury and a National Debt. This imposes upon Congress the necessity of revising the Tariff. And this necessity occurs opportunely. The "compromise" upon this question is at end. Revenue is required for the support of the Government,-There will, therefore be less difficulty in adjus-ting what has heretofore been a vexed ques-

Yesterday morning (the 18th) the most respectable portion of the inhabitants of this town, citizens and strangers, officers of the vessels of war anchored in the bay, and at horities of the place, formed the brilliant procession which paid him the last honors. It was headed by the band and marine corps of the frigate Constitution, and closed by the crew of the same vessel, and a detachment from the British frigate President. His death is lumented by numerous friends and accquaintances. He has left a disconsolate wife and child.

DISTRESSING. For late files of the Montreal and Quebec papers, from which we copy the following melancholy accounts, we are indebted to Capt. Sherman. From the Montreal Herald of May 20.

It is reported in town that a most distressing accident occurred at the Cedars (50 miles above Montreal) on Monday evening, in consequence of a severe gale, during which a number of rafts were destroved, and the rumor is that about fifty lives have been lost. The particulars we have not heard, and hope that the intelligence received in town has been exagerated. From all that we can learn there is no doubt that a serious loss of property and life has been sustained; but we hope it will prove less than we have stated.

From the Quebec Gazette of May 19. The accident in Champlain street on the 17th has proved more disastrous than Florawe represented. The number killed was 26; saved 22; not found 9. A funeral procession of 17 bodies, proceeded from thd Lower Town church to the catholic cathedral this morning, preceded by a numerous body of the clergy, and followed by a great concourse of people. A solemn funeral service was performed for these lamented victims.

"THE IRREDEEMABLES."-The admin istin tion of Mr Van Buren, which fortunately for the country was brought to an end on the 4th of last March, was the only non-specie paying admintstration that the United States have seen. From the commencement to the close of this inauspicious term the Government curreucy, instead of being "gold and silver," or washed, even the bills of solvent specie paying banks, consisted of irredeemable Treasuy notes. The men who have prated longest and loudest about the "constitutional currency" were the ones to set the example of deluging the country with an issue of paper money, and that too of the very worst kind, paper not redeemable in specie on demand.
